“The White Ribbon Event at Reading Station was a resounding success. It was a privilege to collaborate with representatives from Network Rail, GWR, Southeast Communities Rail Partnership, Reading Borough Council, and the British Transport Police to promote this vital campaign. Together, we engaged with numerous passengers and encouraged colleagues and members of the public to pledge their support by signing the White Ribbon Promise. This initiative is an important step in raising awareness and working collectively to end violence against women and girls.”

Harriet Sergent, Network Rail.

“Despite the cold, this was undoubtedly one of the most heartwarming and meaningful events I’ve attended on behalf of Community Rail Network. I spoke to dozens of passengers throughout the evening, emphasising the importance of reporting incidents of harassment, and showing them they are cared for through the beautiful white hearts. I was thanked again and again for talking about this very challenging issue, and a few tears were shed!”

Jenni Jones, community rail support officer for England (South) at Community Rail Network.
